WINS PRIZES IN ART DEPARTMENT

Miss Willa Henbest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Henbest of Fayetteville, contested for prizes offered last week in the exhibit department of the Fayetteville annual fair. She won first prize on a local scene done in oil and also on another original done in water color. She was winner of two second prizes in copy work done in oil and water colors.

Her competitor for the first prize on the work done in oil was Mrs. Mariononi who recently returned from Italy and whose picture won first prize three years ago.—Caseville Republican.

SENATOR HARDING DID NOT COME HERE

Senator Warren G. Harding did not come through Monett Sunday as the citizens of Monett and Springfield tried to get him to do. Owing to the fact that the right train connections could not be made through here, Mr. Harding's party took the M. K. & T., out of Oklahoma City instead of the Frisco. His managers promise that he will come to Springfield on his next visit in the state.

DANCE AT MARKWELL HALL

The first dance of the season given at the Markwell Hall Friday evening was a decided success, there being about thirty couples present. Music was furnished by Rice's Orchestra. The out of town guests present were Misses Ophelia Pruitt of Independence, Kansas, Jewell Moody of Springfield, Martha McDonald of Peirce City, Edward Barber of Springfield, Lonnie Jackson and Bob Drake of Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cook and son, Harold, returned Sunday from a visit with relatives at Rogers.

Ouch, How it Pains!

Right Across the Small of the Back or Over the Kidneys!

LUMBAGO
RHEUMATISM, GOUT
OR FAULTY KIDNEY
ELIMINATION

All signals of distress. The kidneys have too much work to perform. Uric acid accumulates in the system in the form of urate salts.

Obtain at your nearest drug store that splendid discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called Anuric (anti-uric-acid), or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—"For some time I suffered with kidney trouble, also rheumatism. My back bothered me mornings so it was difficult for me to arise. The rheumatism seemed to be muscular, as my muscles would be sore and stiff most of the time. I doctored for these ailments but without relief. At last I saw Dr. Pierce's Anuric advertised. Knowing that his other medicines were good I got it at once. Before I had taken all of two bottles my rheumatism had entirely left me and I was feeling better than I had for some time past. I found this medicine even better than it is recommended to be."—OTTO BERMAN, No. 345 North Hardesty Street.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS AGAINST ALCOHOLISM

(C. F. Whitlock, Delegate from Missouri.)

In compliance with the request of the editor of The Times, I am pleased to give to the public some extracts from the addresses delivered in the great meeting of the International Congress Against Alcoholism.

The first day was given to addresses of welcome by prominent citizens of the United States to the messengers from other governments and their responses. The first one of these addresses was on behalf of the United States and was delivered by the Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of our Navy, who has demonstrated to the world that the greatest and most efficient navy in existence can be maintained on water by forbidding the use of alcohol even in the medicine case of the navy. He said:

"The Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States was not adopted as a war measure. It did not come into being quickly or rapidly, but after long thought, deliberation, education and agitation. It was a deliberate expression of a great people, moving forward first from township to county, then from county to state, and from the state to the entire country from ocean to ocean. It is the concrete resolve of this mighty people that we shall take our place demanding the end of human slavery, a slavery over appetite and passion. You have come to a republic, which, after long agitation, has placed another band upon its Constitutional instrument, which, as one of our Amendments takes its place among those amendments which have never been changed in our history when once an amendment has been adopted, and which never will be changed."

The second address was by Honorable Van S. Merle-Smith, third assistant secretary of state. I give only the opening and closing paragraphs of this eloquent address:

"It is indeed an interesting occasion to me, which offers an opportunity to participate in what one might visualize as the mind of the world, focusing on one of the great problems of civilization. Before gathering together with one purpose the men and women of distant lands, with minds trained and experienced in widely different environments, it signifies, it seems to me, the slowly growing realization that problems of life transcend national boundaries, and that the cooperation of peoples is necessary for the advancement of civilization."

"In conclusion, I can hardly do better than to follow the example, an eminent example, and repeat the remark made by Premier Clemenceau, with which he opened the session of the peace conference at which the Treaty of Versailles was signed. They were remarks short and cryptic, but full of meaning.—'La séance est ouverte.'"

ST. JOSEPH'S HIGH SCHOOL

(Contributor)

Friday evening the losing team in the typewriting class entertained the Senior and Junior classes of the school. The world loves a cheerful loser and we have hence decided the world must love Miss Frossard's team. The senior class room of St. Joseph's was very tastefully decorated in their colors—lavender and white—and one corner of the room was devoted to a Japanese garden.

Various games were played, all having somewhat to do with "T" and various were the prizes won; the first prizes going to Miss Ruth Gimbel, Miss Catherine Dwyer and Charles Flaherty, the consolation going to Miss Gertrude Maher, Miss Marie White, and Miss Catherine Dwyer. The new senior class song, "O Senior," was then sung with vim by the assembled classes after which a dainty lunch was served. Miss Margaret Garvey, dressed in quaint Japanese costume, presided at the tea urn and the Misses Frossard and Conroy assisted in the serving. Assorted sandwiches, Japanese cakes and tea were served, a la Tulee, by these quaint maidens from Japan.

The senior class adopted as their motto: Ad astra per aspera—to the stars through difficulties—and will henceforth be known in St. Joseph's as the Meteors. We trust that though we may never attain the speed of the meteors, we may steer our course through the trials of the senior year with as much accuracy as those speeding lights of the firmament.

70,000 SEE STOCK SHOW THIS YEAR

Officials More Than Pleased With 1920 Exposition—Plan Bigger Exhibition For Coming Year.

Springfield, Oct. 10.—The curtain was rung down on the second annual Ozark Stock Show last night, closing a week of one of the most successful stock shows ever staged in this section of the country. Aside from the superb quality of stock on exhibition, the attractions proved a drawing card to many visitors. It was estimated last night that 70,000 visitors had attended the stock show during the six days. The official record of paid admissions has not been announced but it was stated last night that the records on each day would be checked up and announced early this week.

A remarkable feature of the stock show was that there were no arrests made on the grounds during the entire week of the show. It was stated last night that the crowds had been more orderly and had shown more actual appreciation of the show than ever before at a show of its kind.

Big Price for Herefords

The sale of purebred live stock during the week was an interesting feature. The record price for the week paid for a single animal was paid yesterday when Tuck Brothers of Morrisville, Mo., paid $2,175 for Dandy Mischief, Hereford bull. He had been bred and owned by H. C. Cox of Monett. The highest priced cow yesterday was Bonnie Mixer, sold by H. C. Cox to W. D. Harleman of Bois D'Arc, for $1,000. The sales of the Herefords yesterday totaled approximately $15,000.
